We've often been asked what the T in T-Line stands for. Well, certainly, it stands for Thomson. But then that's our little concession to vanity, which is understandable, after nearly 70 years in the business of building caravans.

We like to think, however, that the T represents a great many qualities that you'll find in our caravans. For instance:

T means Thoroughbred: We and our staff of craftsmen have been hand-building caravans in Scotland for a great many years now. Our caravans are made for caravan enthusiasts by caravan enthusiasts.

T means Tough: We make caravans tough enough to stand up to years of effortless towing. In an age of mass production we still build our caravans by hand to stand the strain of countless journeys.

T means Trim: We have spent a lot of time designing so that you get the best out of space and fitting refinements. You'll find we've used every inch to produce real labour saving interiors.

T means Tasteful: We have given the T-Line caravans style with dashing lines. Outside, the heavy duty aluminium body panels are finished in glossy acrylic enamel. Inside, stainless steel sink units and draining boards, easy wipe surfaces in teak pattern, and hard-wearing quilted upholstery and pile carpets give an air of real luxury.

T means Trustworthy: We build all our models to meet the British Standard specifications for touring trailers. And whatever the model, the safety is the same throughout the complete range, with rigid steel chassis, planned weight distribution, superb brakes, independent suspension, and hydraulic damper couplings on every caravan, to take the strain out of towing and out of you.

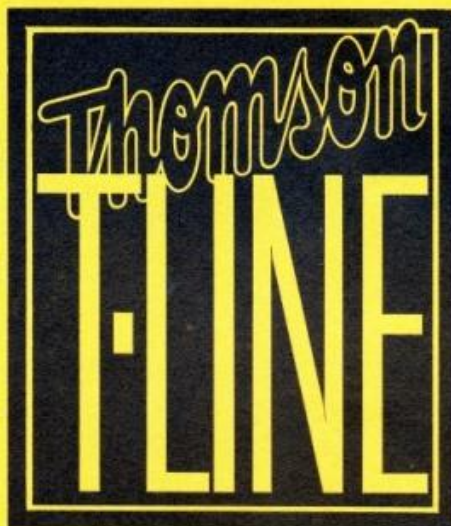

T means Thrifty: Whether you are thinking of buying a small caravan just right for the 1000cc car or the luxury Gleneagle, you'll find there is a Thomson caravan at a price to suit your pocket.

T means Twelve: For 1975 we've twelve models for you to choose from, ranging from the baby Mini-Glen to the spacious Gleneagle and the new luxury Glenbervie.

T means Travel: T-Line will take you anywhere and back in safety and comfort. Travel the world by T-Line - many of our customers do.

Our supply of words beginning with T is far from being exhausted. We feel extremely confident however, that T times eight describes very effectively most of the qualities you will find in our range of caravans. Care to come along and tow away a T-Line?

MINI GLEN

GLENNEVIS

4-5 berth. We go out of our way with our caravans to keep everything out of yours. The Glennevis has a sparkling stainless steel sink unit, luxurious upholstery, teak pattern working surfaces, loads of storage space and toilet compartment and room for an optional fifth berth.

GLENNEVIS J

For many years a winner of export sales the "J" type layout is introduced for 1975 whilst maintaining the compactness of the standard Glennevis.

The new model offers the convenience of two double dinettes and the luxury of two tables.

GLENELG

4-5 berth. Our best seller. Partly because of the interior planning. Wipe clean vinyl-coated roof panels, modern work units, and roomy end roof lockers are just some of the features that make the Glenelg outstanding value. And the family favourite – even for five at your option.

GLENELG J

Children will love the layout of the Glenelg "J" which gives them their own table for dining and playing whilst leaving Mum and Dad to enjoy the spaciousness of the forward dinette and its separate table.

The sink unit.
The stainless steel sink unit and draining board make your caravan as functional as your own kitchen.

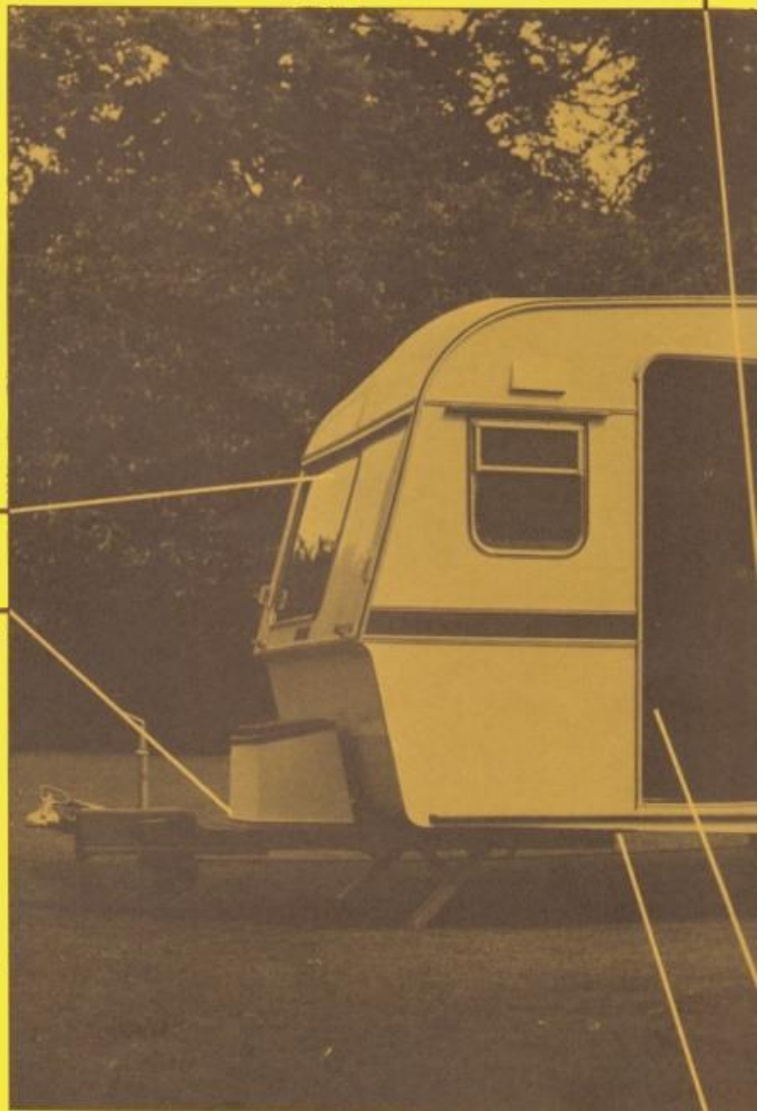

Fluorescent lighting.

In addition to gas lighting Thomson Caravans are fitted with fluorescent strip lighting. Just plug in to your car socket and switch on.

Tow-pole fairing and gas cylinder chest.

In keeping with the design of the rest of the caravan the tow-pole is covered to protect it from slinging mud. And a compact chest also keeps the gas cylinders neatly and safely out of harm's way. Note the embossed metal stone-guard to protect against flying chips and stones.

Water inlet, and waste pipe.

It's just like operating a tap at home, except you pump it through with your foot. Pull out the plug and the water runs down into your waste container.

Roof-vent.

We designed our roof-vent to let in air, not rain. Just push up to open, and pull down to close. Open or closed it always lets the light shine through.

Window vents.

When it's not warm enough to be hot, and not cool enough to be cold, flick open the top window for a steady flow of fresh air.

Rear panel.

We've grouped the number plate, back lights and reflectors neatly in a sturdy vacuum formed green plastic panel.

5" mattresses.

Here's one of those 5 inch mattresses we were telling you about. There's nothing more rewarding after a day's touring, or an afternoon walking in the hills.
